Why IMABARI?

The Biggest Maritime City in Japan!

The city of Imabari on the island of Shikoku is the powerhouse of Japan's maritime industry. Shipbuilders headquartered in Imabari city account for 30% of Japan's total shipbuilding output.

- Number of shipbuilders : 14 companies (30% share of ships built in Japan)
- Number of oceangoing shipping companies : 65 companies
- Number of coastal shipping companies : 180 companies

At Bari-Ship you will meet not only owners and leaders of these companies, but also the entire spectrum of managerial, operational and production staff. This is a city that lives and breathes shipbuilding and shipping – you will find a level of interest in your products unlike anything you have experienced in an exhibition before.
